

SPIRIT & PLACE FESTIVAL

LIGHT, LIVING, LAUGHTER AND HOPE:

Intersecting Spiritual Journeys

Saturday, November 8

7:00 p.m.

Christian Theological Seminary (1000 W. 42nd Street, Indianapolis)

Fee: $20; students and retirees, $15

Join Rabbi Sandy Sasso and Quaker songwriter Carrie Newcomer for a very special interfaith evening of stories and songs that express the common quest of the soul. Sasso's stories for children and adults are poignant, powerful, and ask all the right questions. Newcomer's songs are thoughtful, poetic, good-naturedly humorous and grounded in a tradition of honoring the presence of the sacred in our daily lives. A collaboration of life-affirming stories and songs that will be an evening to remember.

Presented by The Alan and Linda Cohen Center for Jewish Learning and Living at Congregation Beth-El Zedeck and Christian Theological Seminary in partnership with Center for Faith and Vocation at Butler University, Indiana Writers Center, and Storytelling Arts of Indiana.

STORYTIME WITH BUBBE AND ZAYDE

Tuesday, November 4

Noon

Laikin Auditorium, Arthur M. Glick JCC

What's more fun for kids and adults alike than books, music and lunch with some of our favorite rabbis? Join us during the Libby Fogle Senior lunch for a noontime treat, featuring Rabbi Sandy Eisenberg Sasso reading from her book The Shema in the Mezuzah and other Indy rabbis entertaining us with music. You won't want to miss this annual event! No charge.

THE FOUR FIRSTS: Women Rabbis in American Judaism

Thursday, April 30

7:30 p.m.

Beth-El Zedeck

Be a part of history in the making! Listen to the extraordinary stories of the very first women rabbis from each of the religious movements in American Judaism: Rabbi Sally Priesand, Reform; Rabbi Sandy Eisenberg Sasso, Reconstructionist; Rabbi Amy Eilberg, Conservative; Rabba Sara Hurwitz, Orthodox. The panel discussion will be moderated by Dr. Gary Zola, director of the American Jewish Archives. Hear the account of their extraordinary journey to Berlin and Prague to honor Rabbi Regina Jonas, the first woman rabbi ordained in Berlin in 1935. The program and the dessert reception to follow are free and open to the public. Sponsored by the Judaism, Arts, Interfaith and Civic Engagement Fund in honor of Rabbis Dennis and Sandy Sasso at Beth-El Zedeck.
